

Emily Harris

Aurora University
Academic Advisor

Welcome to Aurora University Online! Congratulations for taking the next step in your educational journey, and, let me say, we are honored that you've chosen to do so with us.

Aurora provides all students valuable resources to help support their academic success, including expert instructors, accessible admissions and financial aid staff, and qualified online academic advisors to help guide students to reach their educational goals. Together, the faculty members and staff at Aurora University Online are committed to your educational success and are ready to meet your needs for a great learning experience.

As your online academic advisor, it is my job to help you achieve academic success. Together, we will define and develop your educational goals and an academic plan consistent with your personal and career objectives. In addition to providing you with information regarding your degree requirements, I'll ensure that you have access to important academic tools and resources critical to student success. I will serve as your main point-of-contact for most university-related questions, and if I do not have the answer, I will point you to the available resource that does.

While the ultimate responsibility for making educational decisions rests with you, the student, I believe that academic advising is, at its best, a partnership between student and academic advisor. I am here to help you identify and assess the opportunities, challenges, and consequences of your academic and career decisions, as best I can. Open communication is vital to success in this partnership, and I encourage you to share any problem or challenge that arises during degree completion.

I look forward to the opportunity to help you reach your full potential, both in and outside of the virtual classroom. Earning your degree takes diligence and dedication, and I am excited to work with you as you gain both the practical skills and the theoretical background that will enable you to be successful in your chosen career. I am here to support you however you need, so please feel free to contact me by phone or email anytime. Thanks, and again, and I look forward to working with you!